IN THE NEW GAME BY TTT GAMES

PLINKO POP 2

TTT Games, a division of Mascot Gaming, returns to one of its most iconic titles with the release of Plinko Pop 2. Building on the mechanics that made the original a standout in the studio's portfolio, the sequel introduces new layers of risk, strategy and personalization for players who want more control over every drop.

At its core, Plinko Pop 2 keeps the classic Plinko formula players know: a ball drops from the top and bounces off pegs arranged in a pyramid shape as it falls, landing in a multiplier slot that determines the win. A realistic physics model governs every bounce, so each drop plays out with the same natural, unpredictable feel that defined the original game.

The sequel expands the experience with a set of new features built around a volcanic theme. A charge meter fills up as you play, tracking every round on the board. Volcano Bonus, a free feature, triggers once the volcano is fully charged — it erupts and launches several free balls onto the game field. Players can also adjust the number of horizontal pin rows to build a personalized board layout, and release multiple balls at once for faster, more intense rounds.

As in the original, players choose between three risk levels—low, medium, and high—each setting the range of minimum and maximum multipliers in play. A ranking system rewards players for placing bets, unlocking new customization options and avatars as they progress, while expanded customization tools let players personalize the game area and interface to their own taste.

Margarita Malysheva

Head of Marketing at Mascot Gaming

“Plinko Pop was one of the titles that put TTT Games on the map, and Plinko Pop 2 is our answer to everything players and operators asked for more of. We've kept the physics and the feel that made the original a hit, and built new ways to play on top of it.”

FEATURES

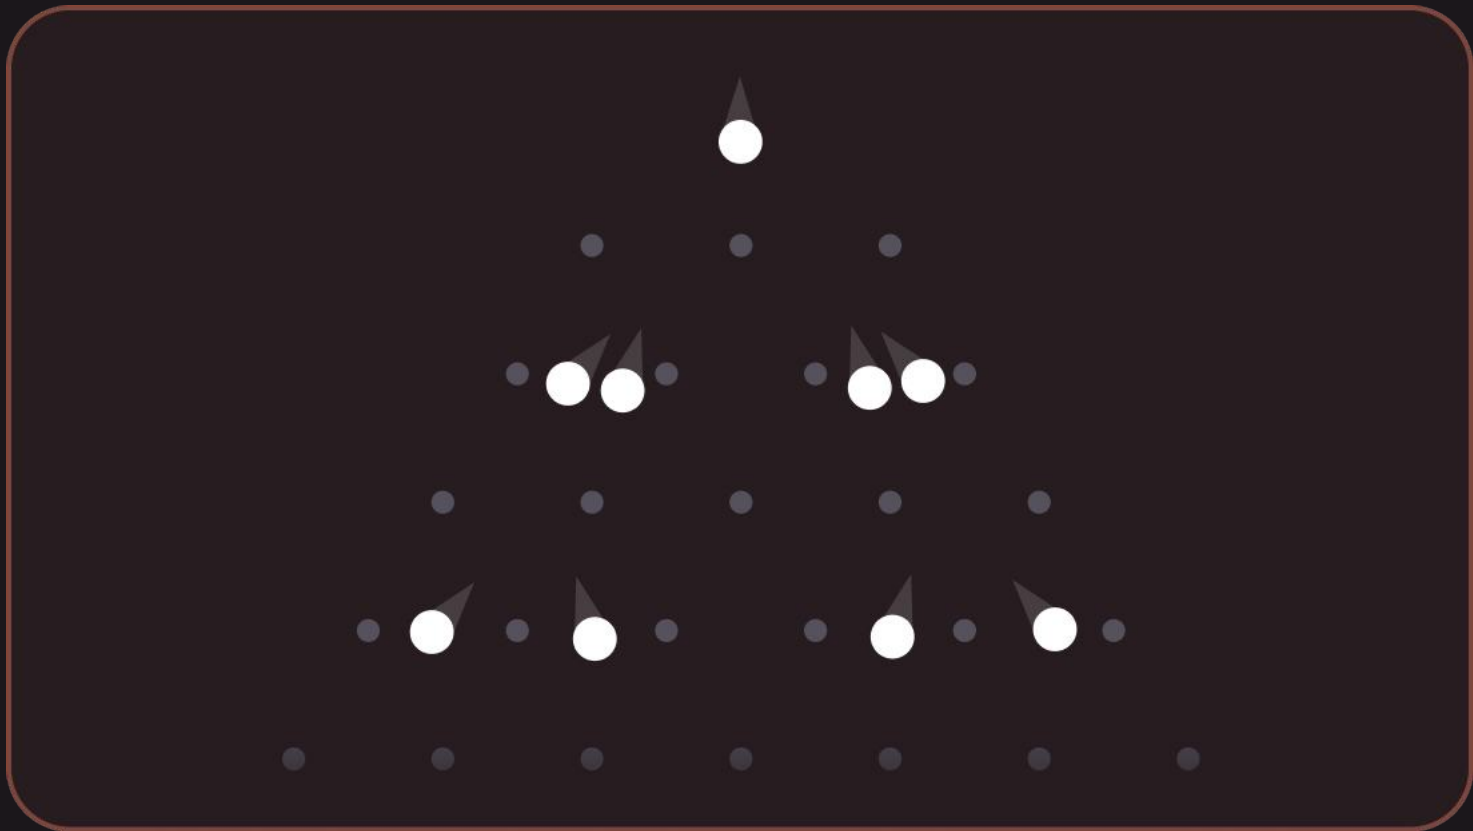

Volcano Bonus

A free feature that builds up as you play — once the volcano is fully charged, it erupts and launches several free balls onto the game field.

Adjustable Risk & Pin Layout

Players can switch between risk levels and customize the number of pin rows, shaping both the challenge and reward potential of every round.

Multi-Ball Release

Instead of dropping one ball at a time, players can release multiple balls simultaneously, speeding up gameplay and increasing excitement.

Ranks & customization

By placing bets, players advance through ranks, unlocking new customization elements and avatars.
