

TAKE A MAGIC CARPET RIDE IN THE NEW GAME BY TTT GAMES

FLYHIGH
ARABIAN NIGHTS

Every round comes down to one moment: the landing. That's the idea behind Fly High Arabian Nights, the new instant game from TTT Games, a brand of instant games powered by Mascot Gaming.

The rider takes off on a magic carpet and climbs automatically over a sleeping desert city — palace domes, minarets, dunes rolling out to the horizon. The map is large and interactive, and it's stocked with multipliers, bonuses, cobras, and landing platforms.

Multipliers build the potential payout. Boosters change the terms of the round while they last: Sweep clears the cobras nearby, Shield absorbs one hit and keeps the carpet in the air, Pull drags nearby multipliers and bonuses toward the rider, and Boost raises flight speed and lets the rider pass straight through cobras for a limited time.

Then the carpet comes down. Land it, and every multiplier collected along the way applies to the result. Miss, and the round closes with nothing. For players who'd rather take the stakes out of that moment, Safe Landing Mode — available through Buy Feature — locks in a successful landing.

Pace is up to the player, too. Adjustable Flight Speed runs from slow cinematic climbs to rapid-fire rounds, so the same game can read as calm and atmospheric or as a quick arcade session.

There's a reason to keep playing past the individual round. Bets earn ranks, ranks unlock avatars options, and a live leaderboard puts players side by side: both the ones flying in the current round and the biggest wins in the game's history.
